PROFILE

A fun, highly motivated individual who is seeking the opportunity to join a like-minded crew as a Stewardess. I pride myself on being hard working and client focused with a good eye for detail. Previous work experience means I can work calmly and professionally under pressure and get the job done to the highest of standards. Working as part of a team will allow me to learn and develop as a person which is an attribute that I strive on. I believe in strong values and principles such as loyalty, honesty and self-growth. My positive attitude, energy for life and travel are all qualities that I can bring to your crew. I welcome new adventures and challenges and hope to be sailing with you soon.

HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

My biggest passion in life is travelling. I love to embrace myself into the history and culture of new and exciting countries! At any opportunity I enjoy getting away and exploring. Day to day I love to keep fit with both cardio and weights. Also, running, yoga, weight training, walking and hill climbing are among some of my favourite workouts. I am a big follower of the formula one, my favourite team of course being red bull! I have been to several races around the world. I love the speed, thrill and team tactics of the race. Studying is important to me; I am currently enjoying learning French!
